BIG SENSATION IN COURT

CITY LAWYER IMPRISONED FOR CONTEMPT.

Regular Cyclone in Circuit Chambers This Morning—Attorney and a Judge.

There was quite the breeze in the circuit court this morning of the season, the year, or the decade. In fact, in a life time, such a scene may not be repeated.

As a result of it, Attorney George A. Davis was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 on one charge of contempt of court and to imprisonment for ten days on a second charge, a most remarkable tirade delivered immediately following the first sentence.

Leaving the court room the lawyer lifted his hat and said: "I will spend the ten days in jail. Ta-ta, Judge. Merry Christmas to you; I know I will have a pleasant time of it."

Early in the forenoon a motion of defendant to strike out an affidavit of Lawyer Davis in the case of F. E. Porter vs. Hawaiian Park Packing Company, came before the supreme court. This document, which was treated in the columns of this paper at the time, preferred serious charges against the attorneys on the opposite side and against the court. At the hearing this morning the motion was referred by the supreme bench back to Judge Perry.

At 11 o'clock Mr. Davis presented the regular bill of exceptions and the affidavit, and moved that the bill be allowed. When he had finished Attorney Silliman arose and moved that Mr. Davis be adjudged guilty of conduct unbecoming a practitioner and a gentleman in the methods used in uttering and giving publicity to the scandalous affidavit, and that he be disbarred from practicing before the courts of Hawaii.

Judge Perry asked Mr. Davis to explain the affidavit and its meaning of several clauses therein, which reflected upon the court and opposing attorneys. In a speech Mr. Davis said he meant just what he had said. The former ruling of the court was made from bias and prejudice, and an undue exercise of arbitrary power by the court. The speech was reeking with very uncomplimentary epithets, largely personal.

At the conclusion of the speech Judge Perry fined Mr. Davis $50 for contempt as shown by the affidavit, and ordered the bill of exceptions and the affidavit stricken from the files of the court.

At this juncture Mr. Davis rose and made the speech of his life. It was eloquent in the extreme, but bristled with personalities and charges against the judge. Attorneys were awed by the tirade, and twice were the bailiffs in the court almost upon their feet to make an arrest.

At its conclusion Judge Perry asked the attorney if he had any reason to show why he should not be adjudged guilty of a second contempt of court. "None," shouted the attorney, "sentence me to imprisonment, or to death, Judge Perry, and let a humane world judge between us, who is right and who is wrong. This is not the first time we have met. For two years you have hounded me. At the last term you overruled all of my motions through malice and hatred. You took me in here today to inflict your malice upon me. Now do your worst. I knew before I came in here what would happen."

"I take no notice of your threats, Mr. Davis. You are guilty, however, of the most flagrant contempt, and I sentence you to be imprisoned for ten days," added Judge Perry.

In the brief space of the hearing a great deal was said. Every minute was one of excitement. Judge Perry spoke several times, but was interrupted by the angered attorney at the end of every sentence.

HEAVY SEAS AT KAHULUI

STRONGEST SWELL EXPERIENCED FOR YEARS.

Terrific Energy That Carries Its Destructive Floods Around the Sheltered End of the Island.

"It will be five years next March," said Captain Cameron of the Claudine, "since the conditions now prevailing at Kahului and the whole northern coast of Maui have prevailed before. A north northwest wind is blowing hard. It is simply impossible to land at Kahului. In coming out after I had gone in to see if a landing were possible, the steamer was going slow, but the waves broke clear over her. There was no foot to them. They rose up vertical like a stone wall."

"The tremendous swell has such force and energy that it extends clear around the western end of Maui, tearing up the railroad track at the Kaanapali landing. This part of Maui is thoroughly protected by Molokai from gales from the direction of the present prevailing wind, but the swell has acquired such energy that it has become a southwest swell of tremendous force at Kaanapali, and a serious one at Lahaina."

The Mauna Loa transferred her Lahaina passengers and mail to the Kani which is waiting there for smoother weather. The Claudine left the mail she got at Maunaloa bay for Lahaina, with the Kani also. The Kahului mail and passengers were taken on board at Maunaloa bay, which port was left at 8 o'clock last night.

The Hamakua coast is calm with a northerly swell. The Kau coast is very calm. The channel between here and Molokai has a very heavy swell. The wind in the Kauai channel is north, the prevailing weather on Kauai is good.

DAM GIVES WAY ON MAUI

RESERVOIR AT KAILUA FLOODS THE VALLEY.

Much Damage Done—Snow on Haleakala—North Storm Raging at Kahului—Claudine Unable to Land.

MAUI, December 23.—Owing to an unprecedented fall of rain during one night, 7 inches it is reported, the big reservoir at the Spreckelsville plantation at Kailua, near the head of their ditch, overflowed and washing away a part of the dam, literally flooded the valley and lands below. Much damage was done to Henry Birch's two patches, not only the crops, but the soil itself being taken out to sea. The cause of the trouble was said to have been carelessness in not having the dam watched.

A light fall of snow occurred at Haleakala last Tuesday, and very cold weather is being experienced. Mr. L. von Tempisky reported 29 degrees at the Haleakala ranch mountain house a week or so ago, which is the coldest yet known this year. Sixty-two degrees has been the lowest at the sea shore.

A north storm is on, and the breakers are running high all along the coast. The Claudine poked her nose in towards Kahului this morning, but seeing it was no use turned and went on her way to Honolulu.

The Kinau is to take the mail and passengers from Maunaloa bay at 2 p. m., and the island has to rush its mail through a half day earlier.

LAHAINA, December 23.—The Claudine arrived here today at 12:30 p. m. The wind is so boisterous that she could not stop at Kahului. She goes at 4 p. m. to Maunaloa bay for the Kahului passengers and freight.

CHILLINGWORTH - STRATENMEYER Deputy Marshal Chillingworth and Miss Annie Stratenmeyer will be married at 8 o'clock this evening. Afterward there will be a short reception to relatives of the young couple.

Mr. Chillingworth has not been well for the past two days, having contracted a severe cold a few evenings ago.

SANTA CLAUS.

Entertains a Large Gathering at Central Union Church.

Santa Claus had a big audience awaiting him at Central Union church last night when the jingle of his sleigh bells announced his coming. Some of the smaller tots were a little frightened at the strange appearance of the tall man with long white whiskers and hair, and fleece lined and fur trimmed garments, especially when he began looking through his field glass to see if there were any bad little boys or girls there who did not deserve presents. But there weren't any there, and pretty soon Santa Claus had made friends with everybody, and the big Christmas tree was yielding up presents for every pupil of the Sunday school.

Then about twenty of the stalwart young men became participants criminals with Santa Claus, and were kept busy for half an hour serving ice cream and cake to everybody. Santa Claus in this grand distribution disposed of about thirty gallons of ice cream and 100 loaves of cake.

Colonel de la Vergne was master of ceremonies for the evening, introducing the guest of honor, Santa Claus, B. L. Marx.

MONDAY'S PARDONS.

The pardon of Muranaka Singora, decided upon by the Council of State yesterday, will be sent over to Oahu jail, Monday morning. It will be read to the prisoner by Jailer Henry, following which he will be released.

The pardon of James Johnson, the Chinaman at Wailuku, will not leave here until next Tuesday, and that beneficiary will not go free until next Wednesday morning.

MOST ACTIVE VOLCANO.

The most active volcano in the world is Mount Sangay, 17,190 feet high, situated on the eastern chain of the Andes, South America. It has been in constant eruption since 1728.

TRIED THE SAME OLD GAME

ANOTHER AUSTRALIA SAILOR HAS OPIUM.

Tries to Run Over the Customs Gate Guard—Fined $200—Vessel Seems Loaded.

A sailor named Falkner was fined $200 in the police court this morning for having opium in possession. He will pay the fine.

Falkner is employed on the steamer Australia. Early last evening he attempted to pass the guard at the gate to the Oceanic dock, but was stopped. While a search of his person was being made he struck the guard and attempted to run through the gate. He reckoned without his host, however, for in a trice the guard had the smuggler on his back and was going through his clothes.

Two tins of opium were found concealed in the man's sleeves. He was forthwith arrested and sent to the station house.

This is the third time since the Australia has been in port that her crew have attempted to run the customs guards with opium. Each time, however, the guards have gotten the best of it. It would seem that the local liner on her present trip is bountifully supplied with the taboo drug. A sharp lookout will be kept on her during Christmas.

POLICE COURT.

Rama was fined $25 in the police court this morning for violating Section 391 of the penal code.

Akai and Sam Kaula, charged with larceny in the second degree, were reprimanded and discharged.

COURT AT LAHAINA.

Judicial Proceedings on Maui, End of December Term.

LAHAINA, December 23.—In the circuit court two cases were disposed of by the foreign jury on Monday. In the Republic of Hawaii vs. Manuel Marebado, charged with selling liquor without license, the jury brought in a unanimous verdict of not guilty.

Alana Hoo charged with unlawful possession of opium was found guilty, two jurors dissenting, and sentenced to pay a fine of $150.

On Tuesday Akana was convicted by the jury, two dissenting, of selling liquor without license, and sentenced to pay a fine of $150. He has appealed to the supreme court on a motion for a new trial.

The court, after hearing the testimony of the prosecution in the case of the Republic of Hawaii vs. Ah Mo, for nuisance, in keeping a savage dog, instructed the jury to render a verdict of not guilty.

On Wednesday and Thursday the cause of the Republic of Hawaii vs. Ah Kina, charged with rape on a child under ten years of age, was on trial. The jury brought in a verdict of an attempt. He was sentenced this morning to imprisonment at hard labor for one year.

The court adjourned sine die today.

BASEBALL MONDAY.

There will be a game of baseball on the grounds at Makiki at 2 o'clock this afternoon between picked nines of the U. S. S. Bennington.

PEDESTRIAN RECORD.

HAMAKUPOKO, December 23.—A pedestrian record has been established through the Hamakualoa and Koolau country to Nahiku. W. L. Harte left Hamakupoko at 10 a. m. last Saturday and reached the Nahiku store at 10 p. m. the same day, doing it entirely on foot.

LANDMARKS GONE.

KAHULUI, December 23.—The old building at Paia which was the first depot and warehouse of the Kahului Railroad Company, is being torn down, and has nearly disappeared.

Another landmark gone is the old Foreign church building in mauka Makawao, which was sold and removed some time ago.

MAUI NOTES.

MAUI, December 23.—Miss Mary Beckwith is expected home tonight by the Mauna Loa.

Foreign jury finished up yesterday, and the jurors reached home today.

A SOLDIER DIES AT HILO

PRIVATE VON GASSBECK, FIRST NEW YORK.

George Moore, the Monsarrat Burglar, in Jail at Hilo—No News of Mrs. McFarlane.

Walter Von Gassbeck, private of Company M, First New York regiment died in the Hilo hospital at 7 a. m. last Tuesday of typhoid fever. The remains were embalmed and sent to Honolulu by the Kinau for shipment to the deceased's home, in Kingston, New York.

Notwithstanding the very diligent search that has been made for Mrs. McFarlane, the aged lady who disappeared from Kaunamau ten days ago, no traces of her can be found. It is now supposed that she got lost and wandered into the cane. No hope of finding her alive is now held by anyone.

The pleasure yacht Josephine arrived at Hilo last Friday from San Francisco. Her party consists of William Crain, Charles Foreman, V. G. Vanee, Chauncey Hoffman and her owner, Alexander Williamson. The party will leave Hilo about Sunday for Honolulu.

Frank L. Winter retires from the Hilo Sugar Company on February 1st. He will be succeeded as bookkeeper by a gentleman from the coast.

Harbor Master Fitzgerald purchased the Tribune building and lease of the land on which it stands from Bruce Waring & Co. last Friday.

On Monday last between 5 and 6 p. m. two and a half inches of rain fell at George Williams' place, at Kaunamau. At Oahu on Tuesday between noon and 7 p. m. 2.15 inches of rain fell.

Richard Gussfeldt, who has been in Haeckfeld's local store for several months, has been appointed manager of the firm's store at Kailua. He left for his new field last Saturday.

George Moore, an old man who was arrested some time ago for entering Mrs. Monsarrat's house in Honolulu, has been in Hilo for a week and has frightened a half dozen ladies into giving him food. His stamping ground has been on the north side of the Wailuku. Some one complained of him to the sheriff on Monday and the man was locked up. Next day he was sentenced to one month's imprisonment by Judge Hapai for vagrancy. Other charges could have been preferred but the persons remained away from the court house and would not put them in.

KAWAIAHAWO CLOSING.

Santa Claus' Vision Presented Last Evening.

The chapel at Kawaiahawo seminary was filled to overflowing last evening with pupils and friends of the school on the occasion of the cantata, presented as a Christmas closing program. Guests were met at the door by their friends among the pupils or teachers. It was an invitation affair, and most of those attending had acquaintances in the school.

The selection was Santa Claus' Vision, a beautiful juvenile cantata with short songs and recitations. All of the smaller and most of the larger pupils took part. The cantata was perhaps written for an hour, but really lasted nearly an hour and a half. It was begun at 7:30 and was not finished until nearly 9:00.

When the program was finished, the guests were entertained in various ways for a half hour. On a table in one of the front rooms was a beautiful display of lauhala mats, fancy wall pockets, etc., made by the young ladies. The reception closed at 9:30.

CHRISTMAS ON MAUI.

MAUI, December 23.—Christmas will be observed quietly here this year, mostly family parties. On Tuesday evening next a Christmas tree celebration for the young folks will be held in the parlors of the Makawao Foreign church, which will be about the only public demonstration given.
